

Nothing Is Wasted

Jason Gray

This song has truly blessed my heart, and I can't help but just raise my hands and thank my Redeemer that nothing, in His hand, no matter how broken, is ever wasted. I hope you truly realize that!

I am totally open for corrections, as this is my first time tabbing on here! And I know some of these chords may sound a bit off (especially the A and G in the verses) but when played along with the song, or with his live performances it sounds right, I promise!

Capo: 2

D
The hurt that broke your heart
G
And left you trembling in the dark
A G
Feeling lost and alone
D
Will tell you hope's a lie
G
But what if every tear you cry
A G
Will seed the ground where joy will grow
A Bm G D
And nothing is wasted
A Bm G D
Nothing is wasted
A Bm G D
In the hands of our Redeemer
A Bm G D
Nothing is wasted

D
It's from the deepest wounds
G
That beauty finds a place to bloom
A G
And you will see before the end
D
That every broken piece is

G

Gathered in the heart of Jesus

A

G

And what's lost will be found again

(Repeat Chorus)

Bridge: Here s the sticky part. He has two versions of the bridge. I had only heard this version, but apparently the track has a different set of lyrics. So I m sticking with these original lyrics I ve memorized! :)

Bm

G

When hope is more than you can bare

Em

D

A

And it s too hard to believe it could be true

Bm

G

When your strength fails you half way there

Em

A

You can lean on me and I ll believe for you

Em

D

A

Give it time, you may believe it too

(Chorus Two)

A Bm G D

Nothing is wasted

A Bm G D

Nothing is wasted

A

Bm

G

D

Sometimes we are waiting

A

Bm

G

D

In the sorrow we have tasted

A

Bm

G

D

But joy will replace it

A

Bm

G

D

Cause nothing is wasted

A

Bm

G

D

Nothing is wasted

A

Bm

G

D

In the hand of our Redeemer

A Bm G D

Nothing is wasted

End on D!

Soli Deo Gloria!

Hope this song blesses you and those you perform it to as much as it has me.

With

God, nothing is wasted.
