

Map

Jason Webley

Map (Jason Webley)

tikkuria at yahoo dot com

A//// Dm////

A//// Dm/ A/ Dm/

A

I walked across a continent
where children did not bat an eye

Dm

when made to watch their mothers die

A

they left the bodies by the sides of roads where only willows cried
yes even my own eyes were dry

Gm

A#

when somehow there I lost my bride

A

the ring slipped free and fell beneath the earth

Dm

so like Orpheus I bowed and went far underneath the firmaments

A

my harp strings broke

my voice was spent

I kissed my lady s hand and sent

Gm

my two weeks notice with my rent

A#

and she grew cold and softly said

A

Dm

I am not your lover I m the map you use to find her

A

I am not your lover

Dm

A

Dm

I m just a map you use to find her

Gm Dm Gm A

Dm

I step outside my room once more and see what I have seen before

A

another ship washed to my shore
a figure walking towards my door

Gm

her face is tired her dress is torn

A#

A

I look into her eyes and feel her thirst

Dm

she says I ve come across these waters
high pressed on by such auspicious signs

A

I ve watched the stars and read the tides
the winds have brought me to your side

Gm

I come to you
I am your bride

A#

and I grew cold as I replied

A

that I am not your lover,

Dm

I m the map you used to find him

A

I am not your lover

Dm

A

Dm

I m just a map you use to find him.

Gm Dm Gm A (pause)

Dm Dm Gm Dm

A A Dm/A/Dm/

A

that I am not your lover,

Dm

I m the map you used to find him

A

I am not your lover

Dm

A

Dm

I m just a map you use to find him.

A

that I am not your lover,

Dm

I m the map you used to find her

A

I am not your lover

Dm

A

Dm

I m just a map you use to find her

This guy is great to see live! Take your chance before he goes on hiatus:
<http://www.jasonwebley.com/>