

Always On My Way Back Home
Jay Jay Pistolet

I think this is how the song is played, it sounds right to me :)
CHORDS:

A major:

E-2
B-2-4--
G-2-4--
D-2-4--
A-2
E-2

E major:

E-2
B-2
G-2-3--
D-2-4--
A-2-4--
E-2

and the final chord i am not aware of what it is called exactly so i have named it

Bbmaj7 however it should be played as this:

E-2
B-2
G-2-4--
D-2-3--
A-2-4--
E-2

CAPO 2

INTRO:

A Bbmaj7 E

A Bbmaj7 E

I am always on my way back home

A Bbmaj7 E

I am always on my way back home

A

She said to me gentle

E

Said to me neat

A

You are made of honey

E

I am made of wheat

A

Bbmaj7

And though you re the finest sugar cane

E

A

I m a seed just sown

A

Bbmaj7

E

I am always on my way back home

A

Bbmaj7

E

I have seen all the world and made it mine

A

Bbmaj7

E

I have asked you if you would wait a little time

A

I owe it to your patience

E

I owe it to your needs

A

You re a pretty a flower

E

I m a dying breed

A

Bbmaj7

And though your the brightest thing this summer

E

A

I m still barely grown

A

Bbmaj7

E

I am always on my way back home

BRIDGE I HAVE MISSED OUT (NOT SURE WHAT IT SHOULD BE)

A

I m in the right direction

E

I heard I m pretty close

A

Your the midday sunshine

E

By nature more morose

A

Bbmaj7

And all the while your set in stone

E

A

I shall forever roam

A

Bbmaj7

E

Always on my way back home

A

Bbmaj7

E

I am always, always, always on my way back home

A

Bbmaj7

E

I am always on my way back home.
