Holly
Jay Jay Pistolet

Capo On 3

```
C                                                    Am
Holly was the kind of girl the cameras liked
                      C
Am
She could play the part of poet that s kept behind the mic
        C
      Am
And whilst i ve always dreamed of making it in Hollywood
                        C
        Am
I know that if she d had a second chance then Holly could
F                                          C
And i did all that i could to help
F                                            C
Yeah i ve done all that i can to help

C                                                              Am
By the time that she was twenty she had driven insane
              C
    Am
On her way back out she crashed straight into crack cocaine
                          C                              Am
And whilst i d never once condemed i did not agree
                      C                          Am
That s why i think Holly fell to fall in love with me

F                                          C
But i did all that i could to help
F                                              C
Yeah i ve done all that i can to help
    Am                                    F
I layed down my anchor
C                                      G
and i said let s make a stand
                            F                G
 Cause i m leaving only when
                            C
i ve done all that i can

              C
   Am
She cleaned her act up burnt her shackles and chains
                    C
    Am
```

And she rid herself of men who used their fists for their brains
                             C
    Am
And she cotched upon a couch within the neighbors space
                              C
Am
Til she d saved enough to pay the lease on her own place

F   C
But i did all that i could to help
F   C
Yeah i ve done all that i can to help

      C   Am
She used to brush past all the students of art
                               C
      Am
She said they re masters of their craft but i am far too smart
                       C   Am
And i ve always fancied studying humanitites
              C   Am
And she passed with first-class honours in philosophy

F   C
But i did all that i could to help
F   C
Yeah i ve done all that i can to help

    Am   F
I layed down my anchor
C   G
and i said let s make a stand
                              F   G
 Cause i m leaving only when
                          C
i ve done all that i can

      C   Am
A car was being naughty down a one-way street
                        C
          Am
And it crushed her brittle bones right from her head to her feet
                       C   Am
And as i knelt over her body and i prayed to god
                C   Am
I lost faith in everything that ever has been oh

F   C
But i did all that i could to help
F   C
Yeah i ve done all that i can to help

    Am   F

```
I layed down my anchor
C                                                       G
and i said let s make a stand
                                    F                   G
 Cause i m leaving only when
                                          C

i ve done all that i can
```