

Teenager

Jeff Rosenstock

E A

E

A

E

Young, dumb and trying to fall in love with a six-pack of Coke getting warm in a cluttered trunk

E

A

E

Burnt out on melodrama and teenage bitterness that I need to let go of

A

Sucking summer off each others fingers

A

E

Windows down all showing the world we don t care

E

A

E

Christine doesn t seem to mind that all of my songs are about dying and suicide

E

A

E

Sometimes I don t think I mind when she yells at my friends, I wanna yell at my friends sometimes

A

Sticking flowers in each others hair

A

E

All making out, all showing the world we don t care

A

And I know that every moment s fleeting

A

E

I know I have too many feelings

E

But when the seasons change

(When I m turning grey)

A

And waves turn to rain

(And everything s a pain)

C#m

B

E

I ll laugh cause I know I don t care

E A

C#m

B

A

I ll laugh cause I know I don t care

C#m

B

A

E

A

G

E

I ll laugh cause I know I don t care don t care don t care don t care

A

A

Sometimes the only songs I write are about dying young and dying and suicide