E   EE E EE

```
          E                                  E     E
Did you ever get the feeling you were born to lose
E                            E  E
Smacked in the face with a silver spoon
 E                   E E
Skinny doll gimme your magazine queen
Just spread your legs for the silver screen
A
From the bedroom baby to the city a  light
A
You look pretty good but you re not so bright

E                          E E
Flashin  your stash ain t nothin  new
    E                            E E
I m gonna get ya my pretty and your little dog too
E                    E E
Make me rich, your doctor said
      E                        EE
And if you ever break down Iâ€™ll cut you up again
On the bedroom wall the stars look bright
But they don t belong in the city a  light

E          G
Get on your feet boy
D                          A
Rip it up, rip it up if your ever gonna make it!
E          G
Get on your feet girl
D                          A
Rip it up, rip it up if your ever gonna make it!
```

Thats the song pretty much up until the solo =] =]
