Subject: TAB: Ride Away by Jim Garland

Jim Garland is a great song writer from Georgia. He plays acoustic/country style music most of the time. I know that he plays around Athens, Ga. alot and is from Macon, I think. I hear he is now making his first full length album that will come out later in the spring.

Lose at Love

Verse 1

Intro : hit bass G twice then strum once, repeat twice

G C
Just the other day, some asked me about you
D G
And I said that you were doin fine.
C
I didn t bother to say that I ain t got a clue
D G
And I spend most of my time
C D G
Wishin we were still together
C D G
And keepin in touch with more than just a smile
C D G
Pretendin that I m feelin better
C D Gsus
Though not once have we kissed in quite a while
D C
Still thinkin about you all the time

Through all the pain and strife
I m holdin on to pieces of my own dear life
And that ain t right

Chorus

You lose at love and your heart breaks
But if you fall in love, it s a risk you take
It ain t fair, . . . but it s true
And I want break down and wash away
Cuz all I got left is all I got to say
All the little lies, . . . about me and you.

Verse 2

The way the story goes
I am doin great, and we are still in love
Through the highs and lows
We are bound by fate, It s like a gift from God above

And every time we swear its over
You come runnin back to me
Swearin that you ll never love another
And freedom s not what you thought it would be

Still thinkin about you all the time
I m bout to go insane,
Guilty goin crazy bout the things I claim
To be right

Chorus same except end with

. . . about me and you

Repeat Chorus
