Queen Jealousy envy waits behind him, her firey green gown snares at the grassy ground.

C#                                    G#                                    Bbm                                    F#
Blue are the life-giving waters taken for granted, they quietly understand.

Once happy turquoise armies lay down opposite ready, but wonder why the fight is on.

G#                                    D#                                    Fm F#
But they re all bold as love

G#                                    D                                    Fm F#
They re all bold as love

G#                                    D                                    Fm F#                                    G# D# Fm F# G
They re all bold as love, just ask the Axis...

G#                                    D#                                    Fm                                    C#
My red is so confident that he flashes portraits of war, and ribbons of euphoria.

G#                                    D#                                    Fm                                    C#                                    C
Orange is young, full of daring, but very unsteady for the first go round.

C#                                    G#                                    Bbm                                    F#
My yellow in this case is not so mellow, in fact I m trying to say, it s frightened like me.

C#                                    G#                                    Bbm                                    F#                                    G
And all these emotions of mine keep holding from give my life to a rainbow like you,

G#                                    D#                                    Fm F#
But they re all bold as love

G#                                    D                                    Fm F#
They re all bold as love

G#                                    D                                    Fm F#                                    (4x) G# D# Fm F# G#

They re all bold as love, just ask the Axis... He knows everything...(começa o solo)
