It takes the likes of me to hit the reboot key

G

and write a high speed drinking song.

Verse 2

Millionaires losing everything.

Hey, welcome to the other side of life!

There goes the yacht, there goes the Rolls,

But, you get to keep your wife!

And donâ€™t forget the automakers swimming up stream like a trout.

They let the shi* hit the fan

and then they made a plan

Weâ€™ve got a lot to drink about.

Chorus

F

Itâ€™s the price of oil,

the war of the spoils.

Am

Whereâ€™s your bucket for the big bailout?

Iraq, Iran, Afghanistan,

Weâ€™ve got a lot to drink about.

Verse 3

Now, Madoff made off with all the money.
Now his clients are down to skunk weed.
Repeat after me, itâ€™s so easy to see
Weâ€™re only talking simple greed.
And those Somalian pirates are counting all the gold.
While Bush and Cheney ainâ€™t around and all the good lookers seem to be Czech hookers from Key West to London town.

Chorus 2

Bridge

Bb F
So pour me some Tennessee whiskey,
Bb F
pour me a fine Jamaican rum.
Bb
That loud mouth soup
F gets me kind of looped
D G
Tequila, of course Iâ€™ll have some!

Verse 4

Now the family devalues and little children count their net worth and the truth wherever itâ€™s hiding, can be found on Google Earth.
Citibankâ€™s buying jets with our money.
I wanna flog â€˜em with a buggy whip.
I hope Obama and Joe wonâ€™t let the volcano blow and patch the hole in our sinking ship.

Chorus

Outro (Verse)

Recession, Depression, the question good God
CNN keeps bumming me out.
I canâ€™t take another doomsday moment.
We got a lot to drink, a lot to think,
a lot to drink about.
