wine  beer and spirits all the  time
                  G                          F                  C
though I have  you still she s  always on my  mind
                  G                          C
the rain falls  down i m soaking  through G                          C
i m an  old man inside a young man s  suit
      Am                  F
my crocodile  shoes are crying  too
                  G                  F                  C
for the  know how much  love I have for  you

          F                                  C
wine  beer and spirits take me  down
          F                  G                  Bm
the lights are  low and there s no one else  around C                          F
the  waitress sure looks pretty and that s a bad  sign
                  G                  F                  C
I smile at  her still you re  always on my  mind

          G                                  C
i ve lost so  much in a short  time
                  G                          C
don t se my  kids how i miss my  wife
                  Am                  F
I let the  world slip through my  hands
                  G                  F                  C
and now i m  talking to the  only friends i  have

they are crying too
they are crying too
