Things Will Never Be the Same Again by: JJ

Not all of this is right. Got this album last night and had to learn how to play it on the guitar. Iâ€™m not the best. Sounds best as bar chords.

Intro: C G (hold G) C F G C F G C F G
C G

Living next door to challenge Things will never be the same again

C F G
I close my eyes and remember A place in the sun Where we used to live

C G
You re sneaking around out there Hoping that I step on out

C F G
He longs for me, and someday we Will go downtown To Levy s bar

C G C G

C G
Ask someone who knew me They will never be the same again

C F G
They tell their lives through sunken eyes Inside a song, it makes me cry

C F G C
Even though I know This ship will still sail on

F G C F G F G
Long after I m gone Gone...I will be gone

(not really sure what to play in this little part; sounds like variations of C, F, and G)....then goes back to the following....

C G C F G

C G
In this world of wisdom No one never really has a clue

C F G
They kill their lives every day With what they say and what they do

C F G C
Heaven knows I know That the ship will still sail on

F G C F G C? F G
Long after I m gone Gone...I will be gone
