

Nervous

Joan As Police Woman

okay, so having paid scant attention to all but the chorus of this song i figured it would be easy to transcribe... but no. the E7 wasn't what i thought it would be, and the tricky little bastard that is the C#dim that i'm still not even totally sure is right, tell me what you think (here is a link to a live performance: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RmmUIQFb6w4> you can sort of see her hand move). anyway, this sounds okay to me. great song, lovely voice. if you sing it even half as well as she does you should tell someone about it.

this is all relative to a capo on 2

Fits like a glove
Em D Fmaj7
But please ready yourself

C G
Cause I don't come with a manual
C D G
No, I lost it long ago

G C

Am D
And I m not used to it

So I m not used to it
C D G
But I m not the first to feel that bliss
C
I quite enjoy it
Am D Em
It s like I fell into your well

Might you really write me letters
Yes, I accept long letters
â€˜Cause I need attention more than you know
More than I ll ever admit

But you, you seem to understand
Right, right from the beggining
Oh you seem to comprehend
That I m human, human too

Truly, you do just make me nervous
And I m not used to it
It s like they say in all those books I never read
So I m not used to it
But I m not opposed to feeling bliss
I quite enjoy it
It s like I fell into your well

F
With all the diamonds
Em
I certainly won t mind it
D
Might even be true
D7 ...Em
Oh but I m not used to it
