Acordesweb.com

Someday

G

D

Em

Joe Brooks Someday by Joe Brooks Verse 1 C Waking up on a Monday, treating it like a Sunday And Mr. Suns back and hes scratching your back for me, what a perfect way to be. Em Wake you up from a nice dream, to take you out for an ice-cream. Em Spend the day on a Ferris wheel by the sea, what a picture perfect way to Give me your heart I wont let go. Chorus D \mathbf{Em} Im hoping that someday, someday Im gonna put a smile on your pretty face. Em Someway, someway well still be dancing when were old and were grey. But Im looking at you from a distance, you dont know what youre missing. Someday, someway I know its gonna be ok. C woah, I know its gonna be ok G D Em C Verse 2 Em Strolling under the boardwalk, drifting off to the sound of the band oh Em Nice oclock comes nine oclocks gone away, got a date at Ricks cafe. Em Ill hold your hand in the back row, steal a kiss in the shadow. Em As time goes by I know that we will be the perfect love story, I gave you my heart so dont let go. Chorus

C

```
Im hoping that someday, someday Im gonna put a smile on your pretty face.
                                 Em
Someway, someway well still be dancing when were old and were grey.
                                 Em
But Im looking at you from a distance. You dont know what youre missing.
Someday, someway I know its gonna be ok.
                                                       C
Oh, I know its gonna be ok.
                                 Em
                                                       C
Oh, I know its gonna be ok.
Bridge
I know, I know, I know, I know
    C x2
I gave you my heart so dont let go
Chorus
                                       Em
Im hoping that someday, someday Im gonna put a smile on that pretty face
                                       Em
Someway, someway well still be dancing when were old and were grey
                                       Em
But Im looking at you from a distance, you dont know what youre missing
Someday, someway I know its gonna be ok
                                                          C
(Someway someway) oh, I know its gonna be ok
                                                          C
                   D
(Someday, someday) I know its gonna be ok
                                                          C
(Someway someway) I know, I know, I know, I know
                                                          C
(Someday, someday) I know its gonna be ok.
```

G