F C
Once a mother stood on a corner
G C
Tears betrayed her painted smile
F C
She was trading in her halo
G C
For just enough to feed her child
F C
Then an old man, cold and hungry
G C
Saw her crying and he stopped
F C
And He gave her his one possession
G C
A shining silver pocket watch
C G F G
There s no cross that love won t bear
C G F G
And when you re down to your last prayer
C G F G
It will be the saving grace
C G F G
In the depths of your despair
C G (Intro Riff)
There s no cross that love won t bear

So the old man found a dumpster,
Crawled inside and went to sleep
As he drifted into slumber
He prayed the Lord, his soul to keep

Then the mother with her halo
Came to him in a dream
And he woke up in a mansion
His silver watch there on it s chain

There s no cross that love won t bear

And when you re down to your last prayer
It will be the saving grace
In the depths of your despair
There s no cross that love won t bear

No, there s no cross that love won t bear
