Central - John Frusciante

The Empyrean

[Verse]

(Am, C, F, Dm)

Iâ€™m central to nowhere

Thinking of sweeping it clean

When we choose to go weâ€™re losing more than just our surroundings

Iâ€™ve gone around the sides of this universe as it stands

Outside the limits of all existence

Where light never ends

[Chorus]

(F, C, Dm)

We should be grateful to the gods

(F, C, Dm, Am, C, F Dm)

Whoever theyâ€™re real to they are

(F, C, Dm)

I value my placement as in Hell

(F, C, Dm, Am, C, F Dm)

Remember that moment that I fell, hey hey hey.

[Verse]

(Am, C, F, Dm)

Anything that could one day be is as real as what Iâ€™m saying

If something is nothing, it must not be something in any possible way

Lo-lo-lose yourself in the far off worlds that are right under your feet

Switch below with above all the way up into infinity

[Chorus]

(F, C, Dm)

We should be thankful who we are

(F, C, Dm, Am, C, F Dm)

Whether we know ourselves or not

(F, C, Dm)

Walking alongside myself

(F, C, Dm, Am, C, F Dm)

Neither of us listens very well

(Am, G, F)

Iâ€™m dreading a time that is not near

As a man on cross I have no fear

I canâ€™t believe these words Iâ€™m saying

(Dm)

You gotta feel your lines

You gotta feel your lines

(repeat...)
