

The Days Have Turned John Frusciante

After not being able to locate one of my relatively new favourite songs on the internet, I decided to take an afternoon out to tab it. The mordents can be played with or without the acciccaturas, but generally sounds better with them.

[Verse]

Bm		A	Em
The days have turned away from me
Bm		A	Em
The lights no longer shine on my head
Bm		A	Em
And people turn away from me
Bm		A	Em
No more do they look to me with respect

[Chorus]

G D A Bm x2

G	D
Well I know now
A	Bm
It s the first time
G	D

That was fun now

A Bm

From life I've resigned

G D A Bm

When I feel I've got problems how wrong I am

G D A Bm

I'm awaiting life as another man

Don't crowd me

G D A Bm

G D A (1)

[Verse]

Bm A Em

There's riddles in the shadows

Bm A Em

They're thrown the way that I'd expect

Bm A Em

And people never seem to know

Bm A Em

What they least suspect is coming next

[Pre-Chorus]

Guitar 2: e|-19- (sustain for eight seconds, gradually bending)

[Chorus]

G D A Bm x2

G D A Bm

Well it seems like times elapsed

G D A Bm

And I've stabbed life in the back

G D A Bm

I'm searching for what it means

G D A Bm (1)

To never be anything anything

G D A Bm (1)

G D A Bm

G D

And I know now

A Bm

It's the first time

G D

That was fun now

A Bm

From life I ve resigned

G D A Bm

When I feel I ve got problems how wrong I am

G D A Bm

I m awaiting life as another man

G D A Bm (1)

Hey now-ow-ow

G D A (1)

(finish with a strummed Bm)

[fret] = accicatura

h = hammer-on

p = pull-off
