You Must Go (From the album, Walk On)
by John Hiatt

D Am C G D
When that howling wind, Comes to carry you again
 Am C G
Just like your next of kin, You must go
 Am C G D
To a far away place, Where you don t recognize one face
 Am C G
Don t unpack your old suitcase, Cause you must go

CHORUS:

Em G
You must go and you must ramble
 C G
Through every brier and bramble
 Em G
Till your life is in a shambles
 C D
Maybe then you will know
 Em G
You were born to blunder
 C G
Born to wander, born to wonder
 Em G
Even when you re six feet under
C D G
There s place, that you must go

Second Verse (same chords as the first)
It is something you done, Are you loyal to no one
Turn your back on the sun, And you must go
It it something she said, You keep this all up in your head
Now your face is turning red, And you must go

CHORUS

Love is in the air, You can smell it everywhere
Its in your clothes, it s in her hair, Ah, you better get out of there
It s gonna take a midnight train, To straighten out your winding brain
Like a snake in the rain, You must go
