

Walt Graces Submarine Test 1967

John Mayer

John Mayer- Walt Grace s Submarine Test 1967

Love this song, One of the best on the new album!
You can figure out the picking patterns from listening,
it s fairly simple! Nice little song here!
Not a perfect tab, but I think it s pretty close!

Walt Grace, desperately hating his whole place

G F
And buried himself alive

C E F
Inside his basement, tongue on the side of his face meant
G Am
He s working away on displacement
G F
And what it would take to survive

F
Cause when you re done with this world
Am G
You know the next is up to you
C F G
And his wife told his kids he was crazy

And his friends said he d fail if he tried
C F
But with a will to work hard
Am D
And a library car
F G C
He took a homemade, fan-blade, one-man submarine ride

C E F
That morning, the sea was mad and I mean it

G Am
Waves as big as he'd seen it

G F
Deep in his dreams at home

C
From dry land

E F
He rolled it over to wet sand

G Am
Closed the hatch up with one hand

G F
And pedalled off alone

F
Cause when you're done with this world

Am G
You know the next is up to you

C F G
And for once in his life it was quiet

C F G
As he learned how to turn in the tide

C F
And the sky was a flare

Am D
When he came up for air

F G C
In his homemade, fan-blade, one-man submarine ride

C
One evening

E F
When weeks had passed since his leaving

G Am
The call she'd planned on receiving

G F
Finally made it home

C
She accepted

E F
The news she'd never expected

G Am
The operator connected

G F
A call from Tokyo

F
Cause when you're done with this world

Am                  G
You know the next is up to you
          C
Now his friends
                  F              G
Bring him up when they re drinking
          C              F              G
At the bar with his name on the side
          C                          F
And they smile when they can
                  Am              D
As they speak of a man
          F                                  G              C
Who took a homemade, fan-blade, one-man submarine ride
