

The Lady Is Risen
Johnny Flynn

(Each pattern is repeated until the next chord, just trying to show the way I pick each chord)

E	B7	C#m	A	B	C#
-----0-----	-----2-----	-----4-----	-----5-----	-----7-----	-----9-----
-----0-----	-----0-----	-----5-----	-----5-----	-----7-----	-----9-----
-----2-----	-----1-----	-----6-----	-----7-----	-----9-----	-----11-----
-----2-----	-----2-----	-----4-----	-----5-----	-----7-----	-----9-----
-----0-----	-----0-----	-----4-----	-----5-----	-----7-----	-----9-----

(you use these patterns with the chords below)

[Verse]

E

She loves full and true

B7

As a fighting bequest she was given her earth by a sea come to rest

E

And the children she bore loved this truly too much

B7

Calloused pride come to die in our hands as we touch

C#m

And so soften me now, let me take as it's given

A

For the winds started up and the lady is risen

(Vocal Harmony)

E, B7, E

E

Is it snowing in London, And warm in your bed

B7

Have I nothing to give you, I'm cold in your head.

E

But you're burning in mine, come to rest off the train

B7

In the silence you've gone and the train comes again

C#m

It's been years since I saw you, I've learnt how to live

A

And the love's back in swing and the lady is risen

[Instrumental]

E, B7, C#m, A

[Verse]

E

Tell me where are the saints gone, Oh where is the pull

B7

Are they flourished in times that were guarded with wool

E

You know limbless they marched till they fell off the map.

B7

Are you sick of them falling like crumbs on your lap

C#m

You once told me that this isn't all that there is

A

And the band started up and the lady is risen.

(Vocal Harmony)

E, B7, C#m, A, B, C#, E

[Verse]

E

You know life isn't always like the end of your novels

B7

Things might wind up but they always unravel

E

And Iâ€™ll watch you with eyes that can see I can see

B7

That you're too good at pulling that wool over me

C#m

And Iâ€™ll fight but thereâ€™s nothing here I find to resist

A

And the winds started up and the lady is risen.

(Vocal Harmony)

E, B7, C#m, A, B, C#, E