Here For You
Jonathan Reid Gealt

C# F# C# F#

C#   F#
Nothing can change
                             C#
What happened to you
                         F#
The tears and the pain
                           Bbm
That you struggled through
                     G#
But hard as you try
               F#
To keep it inside,
     Bbm   F#
You just make it worse
    Bbm   Fm -- F# -- G#
By trying to hide

Chorus:

                       C#
Whatever you do,
                     F#
I ll be there for you
                       Bbm
Whatever you say
                 G#
I won t walk away.
                 C#
You may feel tired,
            F#
Lost, and alone,
                       Bbm
But brother there s hope,
                     G#
Cause I ll always be here -
           C#
Here for you.
                  F#
(I ll be here for you.)
                  C#
I ll be here for you.
             F#
(Be here for you.)

```
                             I ll be here for you.

                                          F#
Nothing to say
                                                    C#
For all that you ve done.
                                                F#
You ve given me strength,
                                                        Bbm
When I thought I had none.
                                          G#
But as hard as I try,
                                      F#
Yes, I can still cry
            Bbm                 F#
It s gonna take time,
          Bbm              Fm -- F# -- G#
But I will survive.

Chorus:

                                 C#
Whatever you do,
                                      F#
I ll be there for you
                                       Bbm
Whatever you say
                                 G#
I won t walk away
                                 C#
You may feel tired,
                        F#
Lost, and alone
                                          Bbm
But brother there s hope
                              G#
Cause I ll always be here
F#                            Bbm
Brother there s hope
                                    G#
Cause I ll always be here
F#                            Bbm
Brother there s hope
F#                                              G#
Cause I ll always be here
                   C#
Here for you.
                             F#
(I ll be here for you)
                             C#
I ll be here for you
                        F#
```

```
(I ll be here you)
                         C#
I ll be here for you
                           F#
(I ll be here for you)
                      C# -- G# -- F#
I ll be here for you
