Beyond The Blue Josh Garrels

F#

Stand on the shores of a site unseen

В

The substance of this dwells in me

F#

Cause my natural eyes only go skin deep

В

But the eyeâ $\in$ <sup>ms</sup> of my heart anchor the sea

Plumbing the depths to the place in between  ${\bf R}$

The tangible world and the land of a dreams

F#

Because everything ainâ $\in$ <sup>m</sup>t quite it seems

В

Thereâ $\in$ ms more beneath the appearance of things

'#

A beggar could be king within the shadows,

F# B

Of a wing

F#

And wisdom will honor everyone who will learn  $\ensuremath{\mathbf{R}}$

To listen, to love, and to pray and discern F#

And to do the right thing even when it burns

And to live in the light through treacherous turns F#

A man is weak, but the spirit yearns

To keep to the course from the bow to the stearn  $\mathbf{F}^{\sharp}$

And throw overboard every selfish concern

That tries to work for what can't be earned

Sometimes the only way to return is to go,

F# F

Where the winds will take you

G# B F# B

And to let go, of all, you cannot hold onto

G# B F# B

For the hope, beyond, the blue

```
F#
Yellow and gold as the new day dawns
Like a virgin unveiled who waited so long
To dance and rejoice and sing her song
And rest in the arms of a love so strong
No one comes unless they're drawn
By the voice of desire that leads \operatorname{em} \widehat{\mathbf{a}}^{\operatorname{tm}} along
       F#
To the redemption of what went wrong
By the blood that coveres the innocent one
       F#
No more separation
  F#
Between us.
    F#
So lift your voice just one more time
If there's any hope may it be a sign
That everything was made to shine
Despite what you can see
So take this bread and drink this wine
And hide your spirit within the vine
Where all things will work by a good design
For those who will believe
        G#
                 В
                              F#
And let go, of all, you cannot hold onto
         G#
                  В
                             F#
For the hope, beyond, the blue
                                 F#
                   В
Said I let go, of all, I could not hold onto
                   В
For the hope, I have, in you
