Acordesweb.com

Maybe Youre The Right One Josh Rouse

Artist: Josh Rouse Song: Maybe You re The Right One This song was considered for the Subtitulo album but never made it on. Listen to the song for rythm etc. It s available to download at www.joshrouse.com

EDIT 2018: Can t find the song anywhere other than at soundcloud on some other persons account. The G/C chord I mean like this: It s a G but with a hammer-on on the B string with your pointy finger.

Capo 1st fret.

[Chorus]

FCMaybe you re the right one nowGAmGAmI can t seem to get you off my mindFCGMaybe you re the right one now

[Verse 1]

G Am Don t move out to Los Angeles, lookin for love \mathbf{F} You ll find nothing there Am G Just alot of sunshine and million dollar smiles \mathbf{F} Am G Hey, I moved down to Austin and I met you \mathbf{F} Δm G/C In a restaurant, he said keep it kosher and don t look back

C

[Chorus]

FCMaybe you re the right one nowGAmGAmI can t seem to get you off my mindFCG/CMaybe you re the right one now

F

Maybe you re the right one now G Am G I can t seem to get you off my mind F C G/C Maybe you re the right one now

[Bridge]

CAmFWe were moving in circles and we were bothGCAmFalone, singin somebody elseslonely songs

[Verse 2]

Am

Keep your eyes on the changes and don t get lost F G F Am In an avalanche, cause there s too many faces and miles to go, by Am G Hey, I moved out to Los Angeles, lookin for love F I found nothing there Am G So I moved to Austin and I met you F I met you

G

[Chorus]

FCMaybe you re the right one nowGAmGAmI can t seem to get you off my mindFCG/CMaybe you re the right one now

FCMaybe you re the right one nowGAmGAmI can t seem to get you off my mindFCG/CMaybe you re the right one now

[Solo] F - C - G - Am - G F - C - G

End with one strum on A