

Something's Got To Change
Josh Wilson

Intro: C F
C F

C F
I m thirsty, God, I m thirsty. From drinking what destroys me.
C F
I m pouring poison in my cup.
C F
I m hungry, God, I m hungry. Consuming what controls me.
C F
Somehow it never fills me up.

Am C G F
We all want to find something to pass the time. But
Am C G
That could never be enough.
F C G
Everybody says we re all so different
F C G
But everybody knows we re all the same
F Am G F
We re all trying to find a pill to numb the pain

Something s gotta change

(C F)

C F
Do you remember when you Had so much hope within you
C F
It lingers deep inside you still
C F
The more of us we swallow The more we become hollow
C F
Until we don t know how to feel

Am C G F
We all want to find something to satisfy. But
Am C G
We could never be enough.
F C G
Everybody says we re all so different
F C G
But everybody knows we re all the same
F Am G F
We re all trying to find a pill to numb the pain

Something s gotta change

Am C F

Am G F
When everything we say and take just leads to war and hate
Am C F
We only pass the blame, and sedate the pain, and move along

But something feels so
Am G F
Wrong, So deep inside, so hard to hide So desperately we try and
Am C F
Try, And come to find that we are not what we ve been looking for
Am G F
I can t believe I m hearing people say that all is well, I think it s
Am C F
Time we all admit we have no good within ourselves, Cause we are
Am G F
Not okay, we re not alright, and we need to pray for help, Forgive us
Am C F
For our pride, Oh God, Oh God, please save us from ourselves

F C G
Cause everybody says we re all so different
F C G
But everybody knows we re all the same
F Am G F
We re all trying to find a pill to numb the pain
