F#: 022100
G#m: 244222

The A chord played in the intro/verse occasionally has a hammer-on on the B string, second to third fret.

Intro: B

Verse 1:

B
Ain t it funny how life can change you
B E B
Ain t it funny how life don t change
B
Ain t it funny how life rearranged you
E B
Put a bullet where a bullet don t fit
E B
Put a bullet where a bullet don t fit

Verse 2:

Growin up never thought too much about dyin
Growin up I never thought too much of nothin at all
Growin up never thought too much about flyin
At 24 can t get my feet off the ground
At 24 can t get my feet off the ground

Chorus:

E B E B
Whether I m right or wrong, same chorus to a simple song
E B F#
Spouts a sonnet to the broken sun and me
E B E B
If I was a holy man, the same leader of a broken band
E B F# B
Selling hate in the promised land, that s me, Oh oh oh, that s me

Verse 3:

Ain t it funny how life can shame you

A crooked arrow or a broken bow
I m so sick and tired of pretending
Putting feeling where a feeling don t grow
Putting feeling where a feeling don t grow

Chorus (same chords as before except for last line):

Whether I m right or wrong, same chorus to a simple song
Spouts a sonnet to the broken sun and me
If I was a holy man, the same leader of a broken band

E	B	F#	G#m
Selling hate in the promised land, that s me, Oh oh oh, that s me

Solo:

G#m - B - G#m - B

Chorus:

Whether I m right or wrong, same chorus to a simple song
Spouts a sonnet to the broken sun and me
If I was a holy man, the same leader of a broken band
Selling hate in the promised land, that s me, Oh oh oh, that s me

End on B.
