G                      G

G C G
When I m weary and tired, when I m far from home
D G
I think of you in the rain and I kiss you

I can t build you a castle; I can t buy you a ring;
I can t see you tonight, so I miss you
Now it s raining think I ll go inside

[illegible]

D C G D C G
And I felt this way before, walking out your front door

D C G Em
I'm a sea without a shore and it's raining

A                  C                                  G
It s really raining I think I ll go inside

C      G      C      D
C      G      Em    A
C      G

G                                  C                                  G
When I miss the sunshine, all I got are clouds
                                  D                                  G
It s your bed I see, near the fire

C                                  G
Baby if you ve got room, I could come and see you
                                  D                                  Em
Make your favorite tea and when we tire,
                                  A                                  C                                  G
Listen to the rain fall think I ll go inside

C                                  G      C                                  D
Somebody stole my suitcase filled with pictures of you
C                                  G                                  Em                                  A
So I forget what your face looked like when we were just twenty
                                  C                                  G
And it s raining think I ll go inside

D                                  C      G      D                                  C                                  G
And I felt this way before, walking out your front door
D                                  C                                  G                                  Em
I m a sea without a shore and it s raining
                                  A                                  C                                  G
It s really raining I think I ll go inside
                                  Em                                  A                                  C                                  G
Yeah it s raining Baby, it s raining Think I ll go inside and that s it! I hope this helped, please rate, comment and correct me!
