          F                      Am          Em          F
Every time is like the first time tenderly
G                      Am          G
Loving you is like breathing spring
Em                      F                      G          Am
Seasons change but your heart beats constantly
          F                      G
Count my blessing every day as you love me
          F          Am          Em          F
As the sunset disappears across the northern sky
G                      Am          G
You look for forever in my eyes
Em                      F                      G          Am
All that I can say as long as I have a voice
          F                      G
I ll thank God above that I was your first choice

          F                      G          Asus4          Am
If I should die before I wake
          F                      Cmaj7*
I ll go into the night whispering your name
          Bm7                      Em          Am          G
If lying in your arms is the last thing that I do
          F                      G          Asus4          A
At least I know that I ll be loved by you

F                      Am          Em          F
In about a hundred years from now
          G                      Am          G
When all of my love letters are found

```

Em F G Am
And someone reads these words I ve written only meant for you
F G
They ll know how forever came true

F G Asus4 Am
Let the years roll on by

F Cmaj7*
These are the best times of my life

Bm7 Em Am G
I ll just smile when my days are through

F G Asus4 A
Knowing that I ve been loved by you

F G Asus4 A
At least I know that I ve been loved by you
