

Sing O Holy Night

JP Hoe

Hey guys! I m Alex, and this is the first JP Hoe song on Ultimate-Guitar! I find that crazy, because this guy is incredibly talented. I first saw him at the Mansion House in St. Catharines, and he just blew me away. His album is quite good, but it doesn't do justice to how phenomenal he sounds live. This is off his Christmas album Hoe, Hoe, Hoe. In the recording, he plays a baritone ukelele, guitar, and piano.

When he played it live, he just used the barry uke. So, some spots might not sound identical to the original, but it should be pretty close! He rides pretty heavily on beats 2 and 4, so make sure you get a nice down strum on 2 and 4 each bar. Have fun!

Am x 2 (you can try alternating between Am and Am/E, that sounds good to me)

Am C F
F

I will send you letters when the snow begins to fall upon your covered head

Am C F
F

Invite you to the table where we talk about the year and all the skin we shed

Dm C F F
When 9 o'clock appears we head into the den

Dm C G G
Assume the same positions with our instruments

Chorus:

Dm F C Am
Singing O-----, O holy night

Dm F C Am D7 Dm
Thinking O-----, O holy night, o holy night

Am C F
F

Take a turn selecting from the hymnals preached by John and Paul and Ringo, too

Am C F
F

Interwoven with the melodies, the minor keys, that speak some sacred truth

Dm C F F
It s still outside; the frost that bites; three sleeps to go

Dm C G G
This evening is a chorus for no sorry souls

Chorus:

Dm F C Am
Singing O-----, O holy night
Dm F C Am D7 Dm
Thinking O-----, O holy night, o holy night

barry uke solo (Just a bunch of Am, for those that want to solo)

G Dm F C
When your turn comes around, will you strum those chords and sing those words and play that song?

G Dm F C
When your turn comes around, will you strum those chords and sing those words and play that song?

G Dm F C
When your turn comes around, will you strum those chords and sing those words and play that song?

G Dm F
C
When your turn comes around, will you strum those chords? When your turn comes around will you be singing...

Chorus:

Dm F C Am
O-----, O holy night
Dm F C Am
Thinking O-----, O holy night
Dm F C Am
Singing O-----, O holy night
Dm F C Am D7 Dm
Thinking O-----, O holy night, o holy night

Am
