G#                                    C#        G#
I was lost and loveless in your soul desert

                                   F#        G#
I was packed and kicking to your alien land

                                   C#        G#
I was lost and loveless in your soul desert

                                   F#        G#
I was packed and kicking to your alien land

     C#                                           G#     C#  G#

And I ll just watch you  cause being is just too hard for me

                       C#        G#
In your soul desert I was awe inspired

                          F#        G#
Feeling sentimental for your alien side

                          C#        G#
And blinded I was helpless in your giant sands

                        F#        G#
Ignorant and freezing in your alien lands

     C#                                           G#        C#  G#
Then I wanna know, wanna know, wanna know what to be
