Railway Hotel (Justin Hayward)

[3/4 time]

D A7 D

We went to the room and we bolted the door

E A7

The bass from the jukebox was coming through the floor

D A7 D G D / /

And out through the walls we could still hear the roar of the trains

C / / D / G D / /

D A7 D

Was this all the comfort we got for our sins

E A7

No candles, no waiters, no soft violins

D A7 D G D / / C / /

The dirty electric convector plugged into the mains

D A D

I had wanted much more for the first night with you

G D / / A7 / / D / /

But the Railway Hotel was the best I could do

A D

I knew the Savoy would have suited you well

G D / / A7 / / D / /

But the best I could do was the Railway Hotel

G / / D / / C / / D / G D / /

D A7 D

Away in the sky were the lights of a jet

E A7

Burning in the night like a slow cigarette

D A7 D G D / /
A lamp in the street threw a soft silhouette on the wall

C / / D / G D / /

D A7 D
And though it was crumbling and run down and dead

E A7
A chair and a sink and an old single bed

D A7 D G D / / C / /
The love we began and the things that we said I recall

D A D
I had wanted much more for the first night with you

G D / / A7 / / D / /
But the Railway Hotel was the best I could do

A D
I knew the Savoy would have suited you well

G D / / G / / D
But the best I could do was the Railway Hotel
