

It s the same old blues comin round again

Every night about this time

And it s calling me like a long lost friend

When I turn out my lights