Why in the day are you always out of reach
And when it s dark out, you come running to me
You told me not to want you cause you are no good for me
But why won t you hear me when you are all that I need
When you are all that I need

I feel your hunger but I am not one to feed
Your eyes begin to wander, no longer longing for me
Turning cold with anger you are not what you seem

When you say I m all that you need
