Karan Casey

[Intro]

Em C Em C

[Verse]

G Em
And her mouth was as red as the fresh fallen snow
C G D
The day she told me again
C D Em C
How another man s love was as white as the raven
Em D G
While mine was blacker than blood
C D Em C
How another man s love was as white as the raven
Em D G
While mine was blacker than blood

[Verse]

Em
And I asked if she knew for sure that the rain
C G D
In her eyes would never run dry
C D Em C
Til the flames of the sun run like ice in her veins
Em D G
And froze the door to her heart
C D Em C
Til the flames of the sun run like ice in her veins
Em D G
And froze the door to her heart

[Verse]

Em
And she told me the last time, as if for the first time
C G D
If the world turns away from the sun
C D Em C
Then nothing and never will always be true
Em D G
That she would forever be mine
C D Em C
Then nothing and never will always be true
Em D G
That she would forever be mine

[Instrumental]

Em C Em C G Em D C

And I swear that the sun in her eyes turned to stone

Her dress was as white as the moon

The priest told me nothing, and no one was true

C D Em C
The priest told me nothing, and no one was true

[Outro]

Oh, the blackened sole of her small bright shoe
Has left its mark in the long white hall of my heart
