

The Yellow Furze
Karan Casey

[Intro]

Am G Em Am G Am G Am G Am

[Verse]

G
The yellow furze stole my heart again today
Am G
The daisies in the long grasses sway
Am G
Before I stepped into his domain
Am G Am
My heart soared and sang with the wind

[Verse]

G
I stood in by the ditch where the primroses lay
Am G
Thought of my good friend, Jane
Am G
Who has turned her life around for herself, yes, for herself
Am G Am
Despite the shame of it all

[Chorus]

G
They had to hand it to her, she s done well
Am
So they couldn t complain
G
They waited for the fall
Am
And all the pain to come through
F
With hearts already too broken
Am Em Am
Only to be frozen over in misery

[Verse]

G
They never said about the baby born in the barn
Am G
Finding her twisted and wound up with their scorn
Am G
The months she spent, many miles, many miles away
Am G Am
Dark sunglasses worn on a winter s day

G

We had nowhere to turn to but the skies

Am G

We followed a star around the world

Am G

Now we wave and walk on, each bent in our own wind

Am G Am

Trees lean in and listen

G
They had to hand it to her, she s done well
Am
So they couldn t complain
G
They waited for the fall
Am
And all the pain to come through
F
With hearts already too broken
Am Em Am
Only to be frozen over in misery

Am G Am G Am G F Em Am

G
They had to hand it to her, she s done well
Am
So they couldn t complain
G
They waited for the fall
Am
And all the pain to come through
F
With hearts already too broken
Am Em Am
Only to be frozen over in misery

And the yellow furze stole my heart again today
The daisies in the long grasses sway
Before I stepped into, into his domain
My heart soared and sang with the wind