Stolen Roses
Karen Elson

```
Bm                                               D          Bm
There once was a time when I was a girl
                          A                    Bm
That darkness hunged in my sky
                              D                   Bm
I was old before I learned to be young
                            A                 Bm
Just don t call till I learn how to cry

            D                                                A
and the weeds in the ground have grow up through my skin
      D                                 F#
it s taking a lonesome girl s heart
      Bm                            D      Bm
I will go where the stolen roses grow
                      A            Bm
to forget that I have fell apart

( Bm A Bm F# Bm )

                               D                             Bm
the thorns on the roses cut through my skin
                          A                    Bm
the vultures flew down and then parted
                                    D      Bm
what lay on the surface was a tiny crack
                            A           F#
and below was a gigantic wreck
        D                               A
so I held my head down and I dealt with the blows
  D                              F#      Bm                        D
      Bm
In hope that I d soon be free to go where the stolen roses grow
                          A          Bm
to forget I have bad memory

( E Bm E F# )

Bm                                        Bm F# Bm
I will go where the stolen roses grow
                                             Bm F# Bm
I will go where the stolen roses grow
            D                               A
and the weeds in the ground have grow up through my skin
      D                            F#
It s taking a lonesome girl s heart
      Bm                            D      Bm
```

I will go where the stolen roses grow
                              A   Bm
to forget that I have fell apart