

One More Chance

Karen Matheson

[Intro]

D A G D A D G D

[Verse]

          A                          G          D
Calling all olive branches and laid-off doves

          G                  D                  A    D
There is work to do before we say goodbye

      Bm                  A                  G          D
And who can see them turning to the faces of love?

                  A                          Bm                  G
Though I hear them pleading with me,
