

Who Will Sing Me Lullabies

Kate Rusby

I could not believe nobody had requested or tabbed this song! This is a very powerful simple song and Kate Rusby is underrated. Enjoy!

[Verse 1]

C                    F                    C                    G
Lay me down gently, lay me down low,
C                    F                    G
I fear I am broken and won't mend, I know.
F                    G                    C                    F
One thing I ask when the stars light the skies,
Am                    G                    C                    C/B
Who now will sing me lullabies,
Am                    G                    C
Oh who now will sing me lullabies.

[Verse 2]

C                                    F                    C                    G
In this big world I'm lonely, for I am but small,
C                    F                                    G
Oh angels in heaven, don't you care for me at all?
F                                    G                                    C                                    F
You heard my heart breaking for it rang through the skies,
Am                                    G                    C                                    C/B
So why don't you sing me lullabies,
Am                                    G                    C
Oh why don't you sing me lullabies.

[Verse 3]

C                                    F                                    C                                    G
I lay here; I'm weeping for the stars they have come,
C                                    F                                    G
I lay here not sleeping; now the long night has begun.
F                                    G                                    C                                    F
The man in the moon, oh he can't help but cry,
Am                                    G                    C                                    C/B
For there's no one to sing me lullabies,
Am                                    G                    C
Oh there's no one to sing me lullabies.

[Verse 4] (Chords next on the breakdown aren't actually played on guitar, but I play broken chords)

C                    F                    C                    G

Lay me down gently, lay me down low,

C                    F                    G

I fear I am broken and won't mend, I know.

F                    G                    C                    F

One thing I ask when the stars light the skies,

Am                    G                    C                    C/B

Who now will sing me lullabies,

Am                    G                    C

Oh who now will sing me lullabies.

[Outro]

C                    F

Who will sing me to sleep

C                    F

Who will sing me to sleep

C                    F

Who will sing me to sleep

C                    F

Who will sing me to sleep
