Tuning: Capo on 2nd

Chords:

      Am  C   F   Dm   E Fmaj7 Dadd9
e|-0---0---1---1---0---1---0---|
B|-1---1---1---3---0---1---3---|
G|-2---0---2---2---1---2---0---|
D|-2---2---3---0---2---2---4---|
A|-0---3---3---x---2---0---5---|
E|-x---x---1---x---0---x---x---|

Okay, I didn't add the extra chords in because the changes are so slight and quick, but after the Am she plays Fmaj7 (name?) and after the C she plays Dadd9 (name?) Maybe not all the time, but at least during the intro/inbetween parts.

Am C x 4

      Am              C
A little tough love never hurt nobody
      Am              C
Never saw this coming this side of me
      Am
I know where you're going
      C
With your sugar laced talkin
      Am              C
And it wasn't too hard to see

      Am              C
You think you got me right where you want me
      Am              C
You think you've got the whole story
      Am              C
But I think that a proper fair warning
      Dm
Might serve you well

So I m here to tell you

F C
It s not too late
Dm Am
To do yourself a favor
F C
And walk away
Dm Am
Though I know that s never been your nature
F C
By the way
Dm G
You ve put yourself in danger cause you re

Am C x2

Am C
Every good girl s got a real good reason
Am C
To believe in breaking all the rules sometimes
Am C
I m that girl, baby you re that reason
Am C
And your scheming has caused me to cross the line

Am C
You lie, but I m a pretty good liar
Am C
You chose a game I can play better
Am C
You re bright, oh but baby I m clever
Dm
So you might as well
G
Let me tell you
