```
G#m                    E
    Anytime you feel
                            B
    Like you just can t hold on

    Just hold on to my love
    F#                         D#7
    I ll help you be strong

G#m                            E
    But you re so afraid to lose
    And baby I can t reach your heart
                                    F#
    I can t face this world it s keeping us apart

      D#7              G#m
    And I could be the one to show you
    F#               B
    Everything you missed before
          C#m
    Just hold on now
                        D#                    E            G#m
     Cause I could be the one to give you more let you know
```

Refrao:
```
                 F#                      C#             D#m
    Anytime you need a love baby I m on your side, yeahh
G#m                    F#               C#                    D#m   G#m
    Just let me be the one I can make it all right (I can make it all right)
                F#                   C#
    Anytime you need a love baby you re in my heart
        D#m          E    B
    I could make it all right

G#m                    E
    I look into your eyes
    And I feel it coming through
                            F#                    D#7
    I can t help but want you more than I want to

G#m                                E
    So baby take our love your way
                        B
    Cast them all on me
```

That s all I ever wanted was just to make you see

      D#7                     G#m
But I could be the one to heal you
F#                        B
All that you ve been searching for
      C#m
Just hold on to my love
          D#                E                          G#m
And baby let me give you more ... you know ... anytime
```

                F#                        C#              D#m
    Anytime you need a love baby I m on your side, yeahh
G#m                    F#              C#                      D#m  G#m
    Just let me be the one I can make it all right (I can make it all right)
                F#                C#
    Anytime you need a love baby you re in my heart
        D#m          E    B
    I could make it all right
```

```
  A              E
   Now there s no way out
  G              D              A
   And I can t help the way I feel
                  E
    Cause baby I m on fire
       F#
   And I ll be waiting right here
   You know my love is real
```
