Now I know that nothing is for ever

That I would need

Save your breath cause im not up set

Imp just over it and were disconnected

Don't look at me like you're confused
And you can't believe that I left you
Like you're some amazing prize
That depends whose eyes you're seeing through

So later see you I'm reminded
Of all the wrongs you never righted
Underneath your cool hope your droning
In your pool you fallen in cause you can't swim

Now I know that nothing is for ever
