

Tomarrows Just Too Late
Kevin Devine

G D
you drag your tigerâ€™s paw across
C G
your chapped & cracking lips,
Am
and open up a crimson slur
C G?
you spread each time you kiss.

Am Em
the broken boy you bargain with C D G
to turn back to the man
Am
that you fell in love with once
but never saw again.

G D C
is he in there? do you think he drowned to death?
Am G
well it s his decision to show his face again.
G D
you grind your tired teeth
C G
& curse the day that you were born
Am C G?
to a sunken line of Irish wives a million miles long,

Am Em C D G
devoted to the suffering they re certain they deserve.
Am
a husbandâ€™s a cross to bear,
C D
worry lines & a silver string of hair

G D C
come too early, come to steal your sainted youth..

Am G D
well it s your decision to stay or else to move.

C G D
& I m not a man of faith, no gospel oak for me,
C G D
but you wear a crucifix to broadcast your beliefs, Am Em D C

and the god I ve read about can t go where he s not asked to go.

so you ve got a choice to make:

shut him out, save yourself, or sit and wait.

G Am

but you re waiting on a man who will not move.

C G

so you must move for him and do what he can t do.

C? C G

cause itâ€™s worth it, thatâ€™s the one life you can change,

C? C G

and I m sorry sister, but it has to end this way.

C? C G

yea, itâ€™s scary sister, but tomorrowâ€™s just too late.

C?

so stand up sister,

C G

thereâ€™s an albatross to shake.
