```
Enough For You
Kids In Glass Houses
```

Enough For You Kids in Glass Houses In Gold Blood [Bonus] Tabbed by: Kattipus Been working on this one for a while. Sorry if you think the lyrics are inaccurate, I had to interpret them myself! Standard Tuning (synth Intro: Am, Am, G, G, then Am, F, G, G,) [Guitar comes in at first G bar] Verse one Am All the nights that we played slowing down every day When we re flying, and colliding Am F let me drown in the flames as the town gives me names all the dying, G and conniving, Prechorus G Woah, you keep me up, C Αm You know you ve got me where you want me, darling Woah you ve got my trust G And no, you never let me down cos you say

C G Am

This will never be enough for you
C G Am

but we try and we try and we try to see it through

[Synth: Am, F, G, G (x2)]

F

F

```
Verse Two
                    Am
In the fire escape of the old english grace
You were mine,
you were mine,
As we come face to face with the courage we chased
down the line,
       G
we re defying
   F
but whoa, your lips are dust,
                        Am
you know you ve got me where you want me darling and woah, I miss your touch,
the way you always let me down and I ll say
С
                                                Am
                                                                        F
This will never be enough for you
                                                                   Am
                                                                              F
but we try and we try and we try to see it through Am
                                                                            F
This will never be enough for you (no it never, no it
                         G
                                                                            F
                                                Am
Yeah we lie and we lie until it s true (yeah we re lying, yeah we re lying)
Am~
A Em
You re not my darling
     GE
Woaaah, you re not my darling
                                  G Woaaah, you re not my darling
             C
                F G
Woaaah, you re not my darling
C~
```

This will never be enough for you

G

Take my heart and my soul, everything that I hold on to

C G Am F

Faith will never be enough for you

C G Am

Take my heart and my soul, everything that I hold on to, woah

And we try yeah we try and we try and we try

Am F

We try and we try yeah we try,

C G Am

and we try and we try to see it...

F Am∼

throooough