Verse Two

In the fire escape of the old english grace You were mine,
you were mine,
As we come face to face with the courage we chased down the line, we re defying

but whoa, your lips are dust, you know you ve got me where you want me darling and woah, I miss your touch, the way you always let me down and I ll say

This will never be enough for you but we try and we try and we try to see it through

This will never be enough for you (no it never, no it never)

Yeah we lie and we lie and we lie until it s true (yeah we re lying, yeah we re lying)
