Good morning, today is a new day...

C - F - C - F

 C
No more excuses

                                F
No more wasted uses for me
Not anymore
 C
No more goodbyes
No more wasted old lines
        F
While I slip right out the backdoor
    C   F
To find myself inside myself and make myself somebody I like, I like a lot
Am   G
 When anything meant everything
                         F
Now nothing means the same thing anymore

    C   C/B
I pull myself to pieces I don’t think I’ll make it back
 Am   F
Fall onto excuses for mistakes made in the past
    C   C/B
I try not to believe the little part of me
F
That say’s I threw everything away
Threw everything away

    C
I burned all my bridges

```
                                                  F
Pulled apart all the stitches that tie
Me together now
I have earned your respect
                                        F
Become more than you expected I would, and furthermore
      C                                                              F
I reach inside my head to find the words to say what I want to say
To you all right now
Am                    G
  Giving up’s not living it up
                    F
It’s giving it all to somebody else

    C                               C/B
I pull myself to pieces I don’t think I’ll make it back
  Am                          F
Fall onto excuses for mistakes made in the past
      C                     C/B
I try not to believe the little part of me
F
That say’s I threw everything away
Threw everything away

Dm
                    F
And through it all
                      Dm
And through it all
            F
I threw it all away
Good morning today is a new day
Good morning today is a new day
        Am
I’m mourning the loss of my old ways
F                             mute...
  Threw everything away

I pull myself to pieces I don’t think I’ll make it back
  Am                              F
Fall onto excuses for mistakes made in the past
      C                     C/B
I try not to believe the little part of me
F
That say’s I threw everything away
Threw everything away

C - C/B - Am - F
```

```
    C                           C/B
I try not to believe the little part of me
F
That say’s I threw everything away
Threw everything away
Threw everything away

      C                          F
Good morning today is a new day
