

Chemistry

Kimya Dawson

capo on 1 if you want :)

C

my heart is on my sleeve my head is in the sand

F

i said how did we end up here? you said happenstance

C

but i didn't understand so i made other plans

F

i ran to the ocean washed the blood off of my hands

C

i washed away my tears washed away ten years

F

washed away the empty space in-between my ears

C

and you said all that i mean is that you and me

F

didn't meet because of fate but rather probability

C

and you said the truth's like corn and lies are like weeds

F

you said the schrodinger equation collapsed perfectly

C

and i said mercy me be patient please

F

cause i don't know a goddam thing about the birds and the bees

C

i just know what i'm like and i'm like what i see

F

even though it's hard to see because you just blinded me

C

and if there's one thing i learned in chemistry

F

it's that the gain of electrons is reduction, obviously

C

but you can't see electrons without machines

F

and you can't tell from my inflection if i'm being mean

C

and i don't know if i can take you seriously

F

sometimes elections depend on the absentees

G

F

and my family and my friends

C

and all the little kids that love me make me strong

G
and no matter how this ends
F C
i know i ll never ever ever be alone

G F C
some day i ll be an old lady G F
with a big dress and an apron

C
a babushka and bare feet

G F
i ll be out in my garden

C
on my hands and knees

G
and i ll be singing a song

F C
that is really sad and sweet