[Verse 1]

C F C
I ve been chasin after Josie since the day I could run
F C
Even tho I didn t know it at the time
C F C
Well I followed her from Texas till she found me undone
F C
Just a jump ahead of what I d left behind

[Verse 2]

C F C
She was as proud of her young body as a body could be
F C
On her way to be a woman of the world
C F C
And I still can see her smilinâ€™ as she gave it to me
F C
Lookin like a lonesome little girl

[Chorus]

F
Josie, is it true that you ve grown harder than your years
G F C
Selling them your saddness in the street
F C
How much did you lose between the laughter & the tears
G F C F C
Gettin back the bitter for the sweet

[Verse 3]

C F C
Well she loved me back to livin at a time I was lost
F C
With the closest thing to love I ve ever known
C F C
And she led me to some bridges I was burning to cross
F C
Then she went & burned some bridges of her own

[Verse 4]

C Now the roads a little colder every time that I leave
F C
F For another empty place I ve never been
C F C
C And I don t suppose it s likely that she s lookin for me
F C
C But someday I ll maybe chase her down again.

[Chorus]

F C
F Josie, is it true that you ve grown harder than your years
G F C
G Selling them your saddness in the street
F C
