

Ordinary Life

Kristen Barry

Am C Em D

And I shed my soul, feel it kneeling down...
I m clutching my faith, pull it tightly round...
You re moving your mouth, but you don t make a sound...
But I feel the walls, slowly tearing down...

Heel to toe, takes you from my side...
In and out, every breath divides...
My eyes to your head, I can t go the distance...
But when you go, you take me in an instant...

But in this life, I ll give it time...
Cause it s always spinnin up, from behind...
It ll be allright, it will be fine...
Cause it s nothing more than ordinary life...

So I show you my sins, show me all your scars... As we settle in, it s written in the stars... Your watery eyes got me send me floating... And my weak heart is swimming with devotion..

But in this life, I ll give it time... Cause it s always spinnin up, from behind...
It ll be allright, it will be fine... Cause it s nothing more than ordinary life...

But in this life, I ll give it time... Cause it s always spinnin up, from behind...
It ll be allright, it will be fine... Cause it s nothing more than ordinary life...