

Yellow Flower
KT Tunstall

Intro

F Asus A Gm Csus C

F
Still the pulse survives
Am
The conscious candour of our conversation
Gm
Lovely as you are
Csus C
I see the strain, the pain, the degradation
F
Strips of light delightful
Am
Either side of bars so thick and wide
Gm Csus C
You hide them with a colourful sigh

F Am
Falling at your feet in sheer joy that you were able to
Gm Csus C
Receive me like a favourite chair
A Dm
Soaking up the tears if by magic it ll make me
Bb Csus C
Ever warmer even after you re not here

Bb C Dm
Could I be a boat for you a while?
Bb C A Bb
Could I stay afloat for you and sail in your smile?
Gm C
Could I be a boat for you
A Bb
And ever gain this weight for you
Gm C F
Could I be a boat for you a while?

You are the yellow flower of my youth
The scent of nothing wasted
With little left to prove
Oh graceful evergreen you take me
Over hill I ve ever been
And others, just illusions

Only seeming to be
Falling at your feet in sheer joy that you were able to Receive me like a favourite chair
Soaking up the tears if by magic it ll make me
Ever warmer even after you re not here

Could I be a boat for you a while?
Could I stay afloat for you and sail in your smile?
Could I be a boat for you
And ever gain this weight for you

Could I be a boat for you a while?

-----
Or something along those lines!
