```
Frames
Lee DeWyze
C
My heart is getting heavier
                                            Am
Heavier than I ever thought it could
                                                              C
And for a while I believed that I was superman
But I misunderstood
And you can chase me down cause you know how
                                                      Am
I want to feel like what we had was good
But now my heart is getting heavier
                                               G
Heavier than I ever thought it should
With this empty space I can't replace
                                                  Am
The overwhelming merry of your face
And in this hall of empty picture frames I wish I never even knew
These halls of empty picture frames
You knew the heartache they could do
Halls of empty picture frames
 C
                                                  G
I wish I never even knew your name
Sleepless nights I'm terrified
                                              Am
I wonder if I'll ever leave this place
But all they hear are wait my dear in case you ever need a place to stay
Well I know that this is just a song
                                                       Am
But maybe it will reach your ears someday
                                                      C
```

G

G

And live and learn to love another way

C

Oh well easier is said than done

C

Am

We both know I fucked it up now suck it up

```
My heart is growing heavy anyway
                                                  C
Well its better to have loved and lost
                                                          G
At least that's what the lonely people say
Well I feel alone I told you so
                                             Am
And time and time again I let it go
But if you've never had a broken heart
                                                            G
Then there's no way in hell you'll ever know
Oh my heart is getting heavier
                                             Am
Heavier than I ever thought it could
Well my heart is getting heavier
                                                  G
Heavier than I ever thought it should
Now my heart is getting heavier
                                                      Am
Now heavier than I ever thought it could
Well my heart is growing heavier
                                              G
Well than I ever thought it should
Ever thought it should
C
Now my heart is getting heavier
                                              Αm
Heavier than I ever thought it could
                                                          C
Oh for a while I believed that I was superman
                          G
But I misunderstood
Well you chase me down cause you know how
                                                       Am
I want to feel like what we had was good
Now my heart is getting heavier
                                                G
Heavier than I ever thought it should
Ever thought it should
I feel alone I told you so
                                              Am
And time and time again I let it go
```

F

But if youâ $\ensuremath{\in^{\text{TM}}}$ ve never had a broken heart

C

Then thereâ \in Ms no way in hell youâ \in Mll ever know

G