

Now You're Here

Lee DeWyze

C#m            E            B            A            C#m            E            B            G#

Every time I dream
It's you and me in the spotlight
But life could never be this way
I always checked her signs
Hoping for better
Left with the same conclusion that
Nothing's happening

And as I retrogress
Singing to myself like a siren
Her beauty fills the night
Like the starry sky
Will she ever see
What she does to me
And will I ever tell it like it is

A            E            B            F#            A            E            B            Bsus
A            E            B            F#            A            E            G#            G#

Now you're here and
Luck is leaning my way
The only thing in my sights is you            you
Now you're here and
Dreams become reality
Well it's my turn to rule the seven seas

Verse 2

I'll remember the nights
Sitting home
All alone
With nothing left but the thoughts of you            So true
Wanting to hold you tight
Willing to give everything            away
What will this all come to?

This girl she's just perfection
Intellect, humor, beauty of a goddess
How did I even find myself here
She leaves an Aphroditian aura
In every room she goes
And I'd run a million miles
Just to see that face

Bridge: A            E            C#m            G#            A            E            G#            G#

When will all this end
Will it be explained
Forever dedicated to you
