

Sleep It Off
Less Than Jake

This is the acoustic version of Sleep it Off (a criminally underrated LJT b-side), I've designed this tab to be played with open chords wherever possible (F# and C# being the exceptions). To see how this is played do your homework and seek out the live acoustic version of this track, which I seem to remember being a free download at some point. Enjoy!

[CHORUS]

F# A E
i might as well just sleep it off

F# A E
wishful thinking s got my wires crossed (whoa ho)

F# A E
when i am desperate and alone

D A B
i know i know i know how low i go

[Verse1]

E D A D A D A
so i ll drive and disapear
and maybe if i m luck by this time next year
E D A D A D A
no one i know will know my name
it s either change or go or i ll explode today
E D A D A D A
i ll leave a note on my machine
unplug the phone and finish packing all my things
E D A D A
i found a photograph of me

B
its been such a slow decay

C# D E
day to day i don t even recognize my own face
A
i had another breakdown
E
and i m floating face down

[CHORUS]

F# A E
i might as well just sleep it off

F# A E
wishful thinking s got my wires crossed (whoa ho)

F# A E

when i am desperate and alone

D A B

i know i know yeah i know how low i go

[Verse2]

E D A D A D A

i m going to sleep it off

this sinking feeling of always feeling lost

E D A D A D A

hasn t been that long

six years worth of always being wrong

E D A D A D A

i met an old friend out on the street

traded stories and out of date memories

E D A D A

she has a photograph of me

B

it s been such a slow decay

C# D

E

day to day did we seem much happier in those days

[Solo break]

E D *4

[into verse end]

B

its been a slow decay

E

day to day i don t even recognize my own face

[Last Chorusette]

E D A B

i know i know i know how low i go [x4]

End on E

- or for the special live acoustic ending

End on E then slow strum A E A E to finish
